

CHANGE LIVES JUST BY BEING YOU

BE A DJJ RESIDENT SPECIALIST

The young men and women between the ages of 12 and 21 who come through our doors have tragic stories to tell. They have all committed a serious crime that has resulted in their placement in DJJ's Bon Air Juvenile Correctional Center. It is here that we do our best to put promising young lives on a path of success. They desperately need role models like you to look up to.

That's why being a Resident Specialist just might be the most satisfying job you'll ever have. You will be a part of a team of professionals whose job is to provide structure and a safe living environment conducive to growth and change to young people who may never have had one.

If you have a high school diploma or equivalent, working knowledge of techniques for conflict resolution and the ability to communicate effectively both orally and in writing, DJJ needs you. In return, you will receive an excellent starting salary and a generous benefits package – along with the knowledge that you are making a difference in the lives of young people who have made some serious mistakes, but still have the hope of a bright future in front of them.
